6:30 pm - Welcome Introduction

6:35 pm - Multi-Hazard Mitigation Plan Update Presentation

A coalition of 21 Planning Partners including Ada County, its six cities and 14 special service districts, have updated the area’s Hazard Mitigation Plan in an effort to reduce the impacts of natural disasters in Ada County. Public review of the document is an important part of the plan update process that occurs every five years in accordance with federal regulation.

The purpose of the hazard mitigation program is to reduce the loss of life and property, due to natural disasters, by enabling mitigation activities to be implemented at the local level both before and after disasters occur. Benefits of the Hazard Mitigation Planning effort include:

- Identifying local hazards that can affect the community, such as earthquakes, floods, landslides, wildfires, severe weather and dam failures
- Encouraging cooperation between citizens, local stakeholders – such as businesses and schools - and government entities to reduce the County’s vulnerability to disasters
- Facilitating a safer, disaster-resilient community, including a sustainable economy
- Supporting wise land use decisions
- Providing a means to secure federal funding
